In Forsyth, you can find just about anything you want or need...

Whether you're shopping for a do-it-yourself project around the house, a camping trip, a formal dance, a special gift, a hard-to-find book, or just about anything else, you're sure to find what you need just a few minutes from your door.

If you like the outdoors, you'll love Forsyth. Our public parks feature dozens of acres of woods and open fields, as well as tennis and basketball courts, soccer fields, and baseball diamonds and batting cages – all connected by miles and miles of paved walking and bicycling paths. Within walking distance of many Forsyth residences is the Decatur Park District's Hickory Point Golf course. The 18 hole public course plays host each year to a tournament event on the Symetra Tour, the official qualifying tour for the LPGA.

Forsyth's outstanding location and labor force have attracted a wide variety of retail businesses, including many of the country's most recognized names, as well as a number of specialty shops. Hickory Point Mall is anchored by several large department stores: Von Maur, Kohl's, Bergner's, and most recently Hobby Lobby.

Aside from the mall, the Village is home to a wide variety of other retail establishments, including Lowe's, Staples, Best Buy, Menards, Good's Furniture, Coziahr Harley-Davidson, and Petsmart, among many others.

And if you're planning to step out for a meal, you won't go hungry in Forsyth. In the time it takes you to say, "I don't want to cook tonight," you can be at any one of our many convenience food outlets, casual restaurants, or fine dining establishments. The mall includes a food court, and you will find your choice of several restaurants immediately outside the mall, including Cheddar's, Applebee's, Red Lobster, and Texas Roadhouse. Other restaurants in the Village include: O'Charley's, Steak and Shake, Pizza Hut, and Buffalo Wild Wings.

Looking for something to do after dinner? You might want to check out what's playing at our modern 12-screen theatre, Hickory Point 12 Theaters, right outside Hickory Point Mall.
